A Resolution in Support of Relationship Violence Prevention Month

Summary: A resolution supporting the efforts of the University of Texas Counseling and Mental Health Center, and Voices Against Violence, in raising awareness about relationship violence

Whereas (1): The Graduate Student Assembly serves as the official voice of graduate students at the University of Texas at Austin;

Whereas (2): Relationship violence can involve any violence or abuse situation in the context of a relationship, including intimate partner violence (IPV), stalking, child abuse, and elder abuse, including acts of psychological, emotional, sexual, and financial abuse, as well as physical violence;

Whereas (3): More than 4 in 10 students will experience relationship violence during their college

Whereas (4): Relationship violence impacts people of all genders; for example, the Centers for Disease Control estimates that while roughly 30% of women in the United States have suffered a form of intimate partner violence, approximately 10% of men have also experienced violent behavior in the context of a relationship<sup>2</sup>;

Whereas (5): Relationship violence is a concern for any individual regardless of creed, race, ethnicity, country of origin, politics, or sexual orientation;

Whereas (6): Consequences of relationship violence can include depression, anxiety, low self-esteem, self-harm, sexually transmitted infections, hospitalization, disability, and death,<sup>2</sup>

Whereas (7): Relationship violence affects not only those directly victimized, but their friends, family, and co-workers, and can have lasting consequences in terms of work completion, time to degree, and quality of life<sup>3</sup>;

Whereas (8): Relationship violence is often an invisible issue, and learning to see the red flags could help someone in need;

Whereas (9): The National Intimate Partner and Sexual Violence Survey report of 2011 states that "Prevention efforts should start early by promoting healthy, respectful relationships in families by fostering healthy parent-child relationships and developing positive family dynamics and emotionally supportive environments....survivors...need coordinated services to ensure healing and prevent recurrence of victimization";<sup>4</sup>

Whereas (10): Voices against Violence (VAV), a program of the Counseling and Mental Health Center, organizes Relationship Violence Prevention Month and supporting activities around campus that spread knowledge in order to empower those in need;

Whereas (11): Voices Against Violence seeks to create a culture of prevention of relationship violence by encouraging students to commit to the 7 C's of healthy relationships: consent, communication, care, consideration, compassion, conflict resolution, and collaboration.

Therefore

Let It Be

Resolved (1): The Graduate Student Assembly, acting as the official voice of all graduate and professional students at the University of Texas, understands the importance of educating students about relationship violence, and making available resources known to those in need;
